Client Capsule: Executive Dashboards

www.nyelubricants.com

“Like so many companies, we have a large number of people who actually use Dynamics GP and CRM every day and a somewhat smaller number of executives who mainly need access to key performance indicators (KPIs) and aggregated high level data. When Altico Advisors explained the concept of their AEDs (Altico Executive Dashboards) to us, we realized that the dashboards represented a way to satisfy both constituencies. Executives from various departments can closely monitor the up-to-date stats they need without running multiple reports. The dashboards extract the numbers from Dynamics GP or CRM and display them in real time. Each person sees only the data that is relevant to him or her. I’ve used similar commercially available tools in the past and the Altico Executive Dashboards are 10 times faster than any other Business Intelligence tool that I’ve evaluated, and they are exponentially easier to use.”

The Challenge

- Deliver concise, critical data to executives
- Provide that data in real time
- Personalize the view for each individual

The Solution

- Altico Executive Dashboards (AEDs)
- Real-time key performance indicators, financial data, and more
- Personalized view of critical business metrics

The Benefits

- Data is always up-to-date
- Each person sees only the data that he or she needs
- Accounting staff spends considerably less time creating reports
