

A World of Opportunity

Our theme for Convergence 2012 is all about the expanse of possibilities each attendee has in the networking and learning interactions available at this conference. Throughout our four days together, you'll find a wide variety of presentations and discussions, in both short and long form, that span the breadth of the Microsoft Dynamics family of products – and then some! Our tenured technology professionals are working hard to deliver sessions that help you develop the business skills, knowledge and connections that will make for an event experience rich with business value. From the start of the User Group meetings on Sunday, to the last and final breakout session on Wednesday evening, Convergence delivers you an abundance of opportunities to learn and share, and meet and network with peers, Microsoft team members, subject matter experts, valued partners, and technology leaders. Make sure your travel plans allow the time for you to maximize your participation from start to finish.

Sessions

Convergence attendees arrive from all corners of the world, all types of businesses and all levels of experience. With this broad of an attendee base comes a great responsibility – and we are up to that challenge! With seven different session types of content and eight different tracks that each of our sessions are sorted into, the prospect of new understanding for everyone dramatically expands and increases. To meet the needs of our attendees, you'll find sessions hosted in a variety of styles.
